

with a take on the linguistic nature of “snow”, or “snowhood”, ‘spoke snow’ or ‘spoke this transitory/transient character of snow’ as a one-to-one analogy to the potentiality of loss.

